

A Course on OMNET++ - Novice to Intermediate Level

OMNET++ is a modelling tool which is now gaining a lot of attention from academic and corporate researchers all over the world. It is a tool that those who are involved in the research of networking must acquire. Therefore, the Department of Computer Systems and Technology, Faculty of Computer Science and Information Technology will organise an extensive course on OMNET++ as on the following details:

Date : 11-15 May 2009

Venue : MM2, FCSIT

Registration:

- Lecturers and graduate students are invited to attend. Please send your name and contact number to abdullah@um.edu.my with the email subject heading of "OMNET++" by 6 Mei 2009. Students are required to include your student card number.
- Only 30 seats are available.
- It is a FREE course for FCSIT staffs and students.